Exhale Spa services are now available at the Fairmont Miramar Hotel & Bungalows, Santa Monica. "For guests looking to stay fit while on the road and have a genuine 'urban escape' experience, Exhale at the Fairmont Miramar provides the perfect scenario and encompasses fitness, spa therapies, relaxation, healing, and beauty—all within one unique setting," says the hotel's general manager, Ellis O'Connor. The Fairmont is also a great one-day escape; I love its poolside appointments, and, of course, the sushi at Koi. Fairmont Miramar Hotel & Bungalows, 101 Wilshire Blvd, Santa Monica, 800-257-7544

Australian celebrity makeup artist Napoleon Perdis's empire continues to grow, with a makeup academy and boutique offering his extensive product line right here on Hollywood Boulevard. From his Los Angeles base, Napoleon oversees his numerous freestanding stores all over the world and, of course, caters to his celebrity clientele. He's even launching a TV show this fall: On TLC's "Get Your Face On," Napoleon will lead the search for the next superstar makeup artist. He's also launching a capsule collection, NP Set, at Target in the U.S. and Australia. It's light and bright and easy to use; I've been trying it out, and I'm officially a fan! $12-$30, Target, Hollywood, 323-603-0004; npsetcosmetics.com
